We are celebrating Fairtrade Fortnight at St. Andrew's Country Fayre on Saturday 21st September. Everyone is welcome to come along and visit our stall to hear more about how Fairtrade is benefitting local communities in developing countries. Also to take part in our banana tower building competition, using Fairtrade bananas, of course!

Fairtrade Fortnight is from Monday 9th September to Sunday 22nd September. This year it is celebrating 30 years of the Fairtrade mark in the UK. When you see the Fairtrade mark on a product you can be assured that the farmers who grew the Fairtrade ingredients have received a fair price for their goods, that they are farming in a way that looks after the long term viability of their farms, and that their communities benefit by having resources to invest in social initiatives.

The students distribute newsletters to pickup points around the town.

The Bigg Theatre has joined us as partners, so we will be exploring how we can work together on common aims. They are looking for volunteers to run a daytime grief café, book club, business networking event, LGBTQIA+ safe space group and lead a "walk and talk" from The BIGG Theatre.

Biggleswade St Andrew's Country Fayre

The Country Fayre takes place on Saturday 21st September at Biggleswade St Andrew's Church in Shortmead Street. Each year it is run to raise money for different charities. This time the focus is both international and local.

With Water Aid the church and its parishioners help to provide sanitation to those in need. You may remember the Great Biggleswade Loo Push back in February, which raised over £2,000 for Mafambisa Care Point, in South Africa. Well, the bathroom go-karting has moved to a different appliance. Two bathtubs turned go-karts will be pushed to open the Fayre in a fund raising effort. They will start from Biggleswade Town Centre, and head to the Fayre's arena. The scrubtacular race will start at 9:45am, with the Country Fayre officially starting at 10am.

NOAH (New Opportunities and Horizon) is a Luton based charity that works across Bedfordshire to provide support to the most vulnerable in our community

St Andrews annual Country Fayre has been taking place for 39 years. It has become an integral part of Biggleswade's community, history and a pride of the town. It brings locals together for some light entertainment, offering something for all the family whilst raising money for charities.

On the day there will be lots to see and do. The arena will have a rolling programme with various acts from the local community, from school choirs, dancers, majorettes, singing groups and more. There will be a BBQ and plenty of refreshments available. Inside the church there will be an exhibition on the charities that the Fayre is supporting. The event will end at about 3:30pm, with a grand draw in the arena.

Julie Balaam is the Community Agent for Biggleswade

She was appointed to help residents access information and services. She works with residents, particularly those struggling with an issue or those who are feeling socially isolated. The service is free and confidential and can be received over the phone or by email or at a residents' home.

You can contact Julie on 07534 484750 or by email at julie.balaam@bedsrcc.org.uk

Julie is employed by BRCC and funded by Biggleswade Town Council.

Biggleswade Community Group exists to reduce isolation and draw attention to what help is available. If you know anything that we don't, tell us so that we can spread the word and tell others.
