Hi I am your editor Alan Dansey and one of the Trustees of Biggleswade Community Group. I have lived in Dunton since 1981 and played an active role in the local community.

I am an experienced IT and Online Marketing professional. I should have retired ages ago but enjoy what I do so much that I am still working hard. Though limited by mobility problems.

I believe in people helping people so would love to hear from you to see if I can help you to raise awareness of your small business or community initiative. Call me on 01767 310163 for a chat or email me awd1@awdansey.co.uk. I look forward to hearing from you.

No promises but if you need to find someone to help with a product or service I may be able to help. At the moment a friend of mine is available to help an additional client in Biggleswade with care needs.

She trades as Nkay Care and I can vouch for her.

'Opening Doors for the Community'

Biggleswade Community Group Our main activity is the Monthly Newsletter. We are grateful to Town Council for funding our printed copies and have applied for a grant to continue to offer them free of charge.

Ivel Community College students distribute our newsletter around the town. They say "We are very proud to be able to support such an excellent and important commune for the community. In this current climate of IT and social media, the printed word is still invaluable for many to access information, support and advice - and for our students to be part of that communication chain by delivering the News booklet, helps them develop their social and communication skills, much of which is embedded in our curriculum"

If you receive this newsletter through your letterbox it is most likely because you, or somebody at your address, either is or has been a Biggleswade Good Neighbours client or volunteer at some point.

Future Action Biggleswade FAB will be at St Andrew's Country Fayre on Saturday September 19 at the start of Fairtrade Fortnight. During this we will be both renewing our Fairtrade Community status and applying for our "Connecting Fairtrade" badge.
